Preface

TIPPING+ have provided an empirical in-depth social science understanding of fundamental changes in sociodemographic, geographical, psychological, cultural, political, and economic patterns which give rise to tipping points, both positive and negative in relation to socio-energy regional systems. Such empirical and theoretical insights will shed new light on the interdependencies between changes in regional socio-cultural structures and the technological, regulatory and investment-related requirements for embracing (or failing to embrace) low-carbon, clean-energy and competitive development pathways in selected coal and carbon intensive case study regions (CCIRs). The overall goal is to understand why and under which conditions a given social-ecological regional system heavily dependent on coal and carbon-intensive activities may flip into a low-carbon, clean energy development trajectory – or on the contrary may fall into an opposite trajectory with all its negative implications. Towards this goal, main focus of TIPPING+ is the participatory co-production of knowledge on the driving forces and deliberate tipping interventions leading to the emergence of positive tipping points toward clean energy transitions in European CCIRs.

Introduction

The purpose of this deliverable is to provide a centralised repository of the mail the dissemination and engagement events carried out by the TIPPING+ project. The goal being to help their accessibility and usefulness for future research endeavours. The participation in different events and proceedings has been classified according to the name of the partner's involved.

The TIPPING+ project partners organised or participated in nearly a hundred events and workshops of diverse scientific and dissemination purposes over a three-year period, including the organisation of the final conference in June 2023 in Brussels and the co-organization of the International Conference "Transformations 2021. Enabling positive Tipping Points in Uncertain Times" that gathered over 600 participants. For a more detailed account of dissemination and outreach activities, please see the Deliverable D6.1 updated on October 2023 on the Plan for Dissemination and Outreach of Result (PDOR).

1. Global Climate Forum

Work Package/Case Study	WP8, WP7
Title of the event	The International Conference "Transformations 2021. Enabling positive Tipping Points in Uncertain Times"
Title of your participation	Organiser and Convener
Short description	An international conference bringing in the latest research insights and activities of the Transformations Community with a focus on defining and enacting positive tipping points.
(Co)organizer(s) (Please fill-in "Participant" followed by your role if you did not organize the event)
Target group & N° of participants	Over 600 people attended. Programme available in the event website.
Date/s	17th-18th of June 2021
Place (city, country) OR mode (online)	online, due to the Pandemic, but with reach and direct interventions from Europe, South America, Australia and Asia.
Link of the programme/agenda/report	https://www.transformationscommunity.org/conference-2021 ; https://www.transformationscommunity.org/program

Work Package/Case Study	WP8, WP7
Title of the event	Tipping Points: From Climate Crisis to Positive Transformation (Conference)
Title of your participation	Towards a theory of possibilities for regenerative sustainability. Repositioning transformative human agency for the emergence of positive tipping points.
Short description	participation, poster presentation; This was an international conference which was explicitly dedicated to the topic of tipping points including bio-physical tipping points and social tipping points. Topics discussed were climate tipping points risks and how to manage them, interacting tipping points across climate, ecological and social systems, identifying positive tipping points across sectors and societies and how to trigger positive tipping points.
(Co)organizer(s) (Please fill-in "Participant" followed by your role if you did not organize the event)	Session organiser. Main organiser: University of Exeter
Target group & N° of participants	academics, plus transdisciplinary stakeholders;
Date/s	12-14 September 2022
Place (city, country) OR mode (online)	Exeter, UK

Work Package/Case Study	WP2
Title of the event	1st Stakeholder meeting CARLOFORTE
Title of your participation
Short description (5 lines max.)	To share preliminary results and co-construct further steps of research We addressed four main points emerging from the ongoing case study: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Alternation of individualism/community; 2. Relationship between being an islander, space-island, environment and extractive relationship with nature, owner relationship with land. Working question: what is the psychological perimeter of the island? 3. Past and future of Carloforte: scanning of community tipping points seen subjectively; demographic aspects and risk of depopulation; 4. Conflict: management of internal conflict; absence of conflict as an expression of dispossession and expropriation of the ability to defend oneself.

Title of the event	Convegno "SIAA Next Generation" - Società Italiana di Antropologia Applicata
Title of your participation	Decarbonizzazione e transizione energetica nel Sulcis contemporaneo: ambiguità e dilemmi di un'etnografia in corso.
Short description	Questo intervento propone alcune riflessioni su un cantiere etnografico recentemente aperto (Giugno 2021), in cui il ruolo sociale dei ricercatori è ancora in piena negoziazione. Nel quadro di un progetto europeo finanziato in Horizon2020 stiamo conducendo nella regione mineraria del Sulcis, e più in particolare nell'isola sulcitana di Carloforte, un'etnografia volta a comprendere il ruolo abilitante di alcuni aspetti socioculturali locali nei processi di decarbonizzazione

Title of the event	Energy Ethics International Conference
Title of your participation	Production and reproduction of exclusive discourses about energy transition. A gaze from the margins of a coal region
Short description	This contribution aims to discuss how exclusive rhetoric are used, contested or replicated in energy transition discourses. Drawing upon methodological and theoretical frameworks from political anthropology and social psychology, we examine in particular discursive mechanisms of experimentation, financialization, colonization and dispossession, that act as veritable attractors that obstacles systemic transformations in coal dependent regions.

Title of the event	IAPS 2022, 27th Conference of the International Association for People-environment Studies
Title of your participation	Decarbonization without citizens. the discursive reproduction of exclusion and disempowerment in coal regions facing transition
Short description	Political anthropology and environmental psychology insist that, in order to be effective, international decarbonisation policies need to be translated into locally meaningful discourses and practices. Moreover, a dialogical stance is needed in order not to replicate cultural and structural forms of violence, rhetoric of exclusion and disempowerment.
(Co)organizer(s) (Please fill-in "Participant" followed by your role if you did not organize the event)	Participant (Talk- - Sarrica, M., Apostoli Cappello, E., Biddau, F., Rizzoli, V., & Forcella, L.)

Title of the event	Conference "Tipping points: from climate crisis to positive transformation"
Title of your participation	Francesc Cots, Jeremie Fosse, Gerard Codina, and J. David Tàbara (poster only): "Exploring windows for rapid transformability in a post-coal mining region. The demolition of the last cooling tower of the Andorra coal-fired plant in Spain as a tipping point".
Short description	In May 2022, the last cooling tower of the coal-fired power plant in the Spanish region of Andorra in Teruel province was demolished. Our research explores the role of identities and perceptions of the future as key constraining or enabling factors in tipping former carbon-intensive regions towards clean energy and sustainable development pathways. Understanding how local populations see their uncertainties about the future, and examining other views on relative deprivation and inequality, are central in developing enabling governance arrangements and continuous learning feedback loops required in rapid socio-energy transformations.
